Things to consider ...

Embargo
You don’t have to embargo your work. Leave it blank if you don’t need an embargo. Ask your advisor about the need for an embargo. We may contact your advisor to confirm that an embargo is justified.

ProQuest: select “Traditional”

Rights
You must grant Creighton a non-exclusive distribution right but you retain the copyright.

Rights Holder
Identify yourself as the copyright holder.
You must follow the file name format:

- Last Name
- First Initial
- Year
- Degree

For example:

Doe-J-2013-MS.pdf
or
Doe_J_2014_PhD.pdf

You may attach more than one file. For example: data sets, images, and video files.
You will be able to review and edit your submission information.

You must grant Creighton a non-exclusive distribution license

You retain the copyright.

People may make “fair use” of your work as established by U.S. copyright law.

Your work will be available on the web.

If you have selected a limited embargo period, your work will not be available until that date.

Distribution License

There is one last step: In order for DSpace to reproduce, translate and distribute your submission worldwide, you must agree to the following terms.

Grant the standard distribution license by selecting 'I Grant the License'; and then click 'Complete Submission'.

NON-EXCLUSIVE DISTRIBUTION LICENSE

By signing and submitting this license, the undersigned author and copyright owner grants to Creighton University (Creighton) the non-exclusive right to publicly post my submission in electronic form in the Creighton Digital Repository (CDR). I agree that Creighton may, without changing the content, translate my submission to any medium or format for the purpose of preservation and storage. I also agree that Creighton may keep a back-up copy of my submission for preservation purposes.

I represent that the submission is my original work, and I have the authority to grant the rights contained in this license. I also represent that my submission does not, to the best of my knowledge, infringe upon anyone’s copyright.

If the submission contains material for which I do not hold the copyright, I represent that I have obtained the unrestricted permission of the copyright owner to grant Creighton the rights required by this license, and that such third-party owned material is clearly identified and acknowledged within the text or content of the submission.

If the submission is based upon work that has been sponsored or supported by an agency or organization other than Creighton I represent that I have fulfilled any right of review or other obligations required by such agency or organization.

I understand that end users may download and use my submission for personal use of a non-commercial purpose.

I understand that Creighton will clearly identify my name as the author of the submission, and Creighton will not make any alteration, other than as allowed by this license, to my submission.

If you have questions regarding this license please contact the system administrators.

Your submission won’t be available until it is reviewed and approved.

Approval is usually granted with 24 hours when it is submitted on a weekday.

We may correct the information you provided before we approve it. This usually means checking for spelling errors, etc.
Persistent URL:
Each item in the CDR is assigned a handle. You should use your handle to reference your thesis, especially in other publications.

Handle for this item: http://hdl.handle.net/10504/92022

10504 identifies the CDR
The last number identifies your publication.
You can monitor the use of your thesis.

File downloads are views of your PDF file. For example, a download occurs if someone clicks the file link.

Page views are views of your CDR item record.

Downloads may come directly via web search engines because they index the PDF file in addition to the item record. Thus, downloads usually exceed page views.
