Seven full pages of story and pictures tell of extensive remodeling and revision of procedures which took place in 1959. St. Joseph's was one of the first in the Midwest to comply with the latest directives of the Academy of Pediatrics in care of newborns.

A portion of this lobby will be designated by furniture-divisions for the use of patients awaiting treatments.

Nearly finished is the Philippine mahogany paneling covering the lower portion of the walls. New light fixtures, writing desks for patients and visitors and additional furniture will also be added. Also being remodeled are the treatment rooms and the office which will be paneled and have new supply cabinets installed.
