MAKARONY
FABLES
Three hundred copies only of this volume have been printed on hand-made paper, and five copies on Japanese vellum.
PREPARATORY NOTE.

THIS Work is issued as a companion volume to "Crazy Tales," privately printed for subscribers in 1894, which speedily went out of print.

John Hall Stevenson, as is well known, was the Eugenius of "Tristram Shandy." His writings show an Elizabethan broadness of mind which would not be permitted now-a-days.

With the "Makarony Fables" are included "Fables for Grown Gentlemen," "Lyric Epistles," and several other Poems, which, it is hoped, will prove interesting to the reader.
CONTENTS.

Makarony Fables . . . . . . 9
New Fable of the Bees . . . . . . 33
A Pastoral Cordial, or an Anodyne Sermon . . . . . . 55
Queries to the Critical Reviewers . . . . . . 81
Lyric Consolations, with the Speech of Alderman W—— . . . . . . . 85
Imitations of Horace . . . . . . 91
The Alderman's Speech, in a Dream, against abolishing the Distinction of Parties . . . . . . 123
Fables for Grown Gentlemen . . . . . . 135
A Pastoral Puke, a second Sermon preached before the People called Whigs . . . . . . 207
Two Lyric Epistles, or Margery the Cook-Maid . . . . . . 235
An Epistle to the Grown Gentlewomen, the Misses of  . . . . . . . . 248